

Home & Belonging for All

A home is more than four walls. It is a sense of belonging: where we live, where we work, our community, and our surrounding environment. What defines home is personal to each of us, and we should all have the economic power to dream and to belong in the East Bay. EBCF is our collective home to restore the fabric of our community. Fund advisors and donors like you play a critical role in fueling community-led social change. Together, we are creating an East Bay where everyone has a sense of home and belonging.

Our Collective Impact

EBCF is a community anchor, and with your support, our Campaign For A Just East Bay is having tremendous impacts throughout Alameda and Contra Costa Counties. Our grantees are driving community-led solutions to address the root causes of the East Bay's challenges and providing community members what they need to thrive. This includes economic mobility, affordable housing, arts and culture, equitable education, and healthy neighborhoods—all while expanding civic engagement and elevating racial equity.

Building the Power of Low-Income Communities of Color

No one organization can solve the East Bay's challenges. EBCF serves as a regional anchor for our core grantees that collectively build the grassroots power of low-income

Black, Indigenous, and people of color who are disproportionately impacted by injustice. Many of our grantees work in coalition on an intersection of issues affecting our community.

Fueled by EBCF's investment, they speak out at city hall, meet with elected leaders, and pass policies legislatively and at the ballot box to create a sense of home and belonging for all.

Affordable Housing

Groups like Causa Justa: Just Cause and Alliance of Californians for Community Empowerment organize tenants, pass renter protections, and expand access to affordable housing for low-income East Bay residents, so everyone has a place to call home.

Nourishing Arts & Culture

Groups like Civic Design Studio and African American Art & Culture Complex shift public narratives and reimagine our communities where everyone has the power to dream, to heal, and to belong.

Good Jobs

Groups like Mujeres Unidas y Activas that organize domestic workers and East Bay Alliance for a Sustainable Economy that organize in multiple service sectors are working to raise wages, lift people out of poverty, and ensure dignity on the job.

Entrepreneurship & Land Ownership

Groups like Real People's Fund jumpstart and incubate small businesses, and groups like Sogorea Te' Land Trust grow land ownership for Black, Indigenous, and people of color. These strategies create economic mobility and stability.

Healthy Environment

Groups like Asian Pacific Environmental Network and Communities for a Better Environment organize residents of color in neighborhoods disproportionately impacted by pollution to fight for clean air and green spaces.

Equitable Education

Groups like A Black Education Network and RYSE Center organize youth, parents, and teachers to advance equity in education, technology, and culture to help young people reach their potential.
