

Alford Analytics

With a 360-degree view of exactly how donors are engaging with your organization, Alford Analytics can uncover and identify any and all recent and historic trends and gaps in giving that may be relevant to fundraising strategy and implementation.

With two simple exports from your donor database, Alford Analytics will review multiple fiscal years of giving history and map out the donor journey – how donors are acquired, how long they stay, when they peak, how and when they increase to major giving and much more.
